

Lois Ware's Testimony

I was told that I had Cancer in October of 1999. I was very upset because I had a sister and brother to survive for many years and died with something else, my husband was also a long time survivor. When I was told that I had cancer, I was shown on the Mammogram what cancer cells look like, and the size of mine.

I had surgery on Jan 11, 2000 and except for a few days of depression during treatments everything went well. With Gods healing powers Jan 11, 2009 I will be a nine year survivor.
